WALKING

There are plenty of walking opportunities in and around Bodmin town centre. The Beacon Nature Reserve is one of those with pathways all around the Gilbert memorial and fine views across the countryside and towards Bodmin Moor. There is also the St Guron's Way that links the Leisure Centre with the west side of the town. Plus, don't miss the ever popular Camel Trail walking and cycling path and the route 3 Sustran's cycle route that leads to the National Trust Property Lanhydrock and beyond.

WHY NOT VISIT...

Dotted all over Bodmin are a number of ancient Holy Wells, for example the Eye Well at the bottom of Bell Lane had a reputation for healing troubled eyes. Pick up a copy of the Bodmin Well Trail at the Tourist Information Centre to explore all of the town's wells.

WELCOME TO BODMIN

Bodmin, the ancient county town, sits right at the heart of Cornwall. Equidistant from both the north and south coasts, and situated on the south-east corner of Bodmin Moor.

Evidence of the town's rich history can be spotted around every corner. There are five attractions, all within walking distance of the town centre. The Town Museum is a good starting point with wonderful displays and artefacts, depicting the fascinating past of the town. Next door to the museum is the Shire Hall; as well as offering the town's tourist information, a gift shop and an art gallery, you can take the opportunity to visit the Courtroom Experience and act as a member of the jury in a real Victorian murder trial, that took place when the building was Cornwall's Assizes. If the Courtroom has left you wanting more, Bodmin Jail is a natural follow on. With five floors to explore, it provides a great insight into crime and punishment.

Also, don't miss Cornwall's Regimental Museum, which has excellent displays including a piece of the Berlin Wall and the medals of Harry Patch. Just nearby is Bodmin and Wenford Railway. Take a delightful trip into the surrounding countryside by steam or diesel.

THE CHURCH

St Petroc's Church is not to be missed whilst in Bodmin. It is the largest Parish Church in Cornwall and dates from the 15th Century, although earlier churches existed on the same site from 540 AD. St Petroc's is dramatically situated amidst an array of Holy Wells. It boasts a magnificent Norman font and a precious 12th Century Sicilian ivory casket that held the bones of its patron saint.
